

What survival looks like...

FOR ME

Created by

.....

When I was little, some wires got connected to the wrong places in my brain. Often I think and feel like I'm under attack even when I'm actually very safe. My brain activates survival mode to protect me.

I don't even know that I have gone into survival mode. It happens so often that this part of my brain is really strong and rules over the calm part of my brain. It is difficult to turn it off by myself and I need your help!

Why is it so important that you know this?

The part of my brain activated to help me survive, is different from the part of my brain activated when I'm calm.

When I'm in a survival state it takes over from my calm brain and I struggle to play well with friends, listen to what you are asking me to do, move from activity to activity, stay safe walking down the street or even eat my dinner!

The problem is, it's really hard to see when I'm in survival mode. I look very different to how I feel inside and often I can remain in survival mode for so long, that it seems like part of my personality.

I would love your help _____ to feel safe so I put the name of your trusted adult here can enjoy my time with my friends, make my relationship with you stronger and feel happier in different places. I really do want to feel ok.

Please help me work out what's going on for me by going through the survival modes with me. How I feel is right for me so there is no wrong way of doing this. Even if we don't end up filling anything in, just stopping and trying to find out what's going on for me will make a difference.
