

LO: to put the story of Ganesha into the correct order

Read these sentences. Sort them into the correct order by firstly writing a number in the box at the side. Then cut the strips out and glue them in the correct order into your topic books.

	Shiva took the head of the first animal he saw and placed it on Ganesha's body.
	Parvati was a Hindu goddess and was married to the great God Shiva.
	Ganesha came back to life. Parvati was very happy.
	Parvati felt lonely so she made a boy out of soap.
	When Ganesha would not let Shiva pass, Shiva was annoyed and cut off Ganesha's head.
	Ganesha became a God, like his parents.
	Parvati named the boy Ganesha and he guarded Parvati's door.
	Shiva was sad when he found out that he had killed Ganesha, his son.

LO: to put the story of Ganesha into the correct order

Read these sentences. Sort them into the correct order by firstly writing a number in the box at the side. Then cut the strips out and glue them in the correct order into your topic books.

	When Shiva returned, Ganesha would not let him pass.
	Shiva placed the head of the elephant onto the body of Ganesha and made him come back to life.
	Parvati was a Hindu goddess and was married to the great God Shiva.
	Shiva cut off the head of the first animal he found... and elephant.
	Parvati felt lonely so she made a boy out of soap.
	Shiva was very angry so he cut off Ganesha's head.
	Ganesha became a God, like his parents.
	Ganesha is the guardian of success and failure.
	Parvati named the boy Ganesha and he guarded Parvati's door as she bathed.
	Ganesha has big ears, four arms, a curved trunk and a necklace which holds the seeds of life.
	Parvati was very upset that Shiva had killed Ganesha.
	Shiva was upset too when he learned that he had killed his son.