

Angels

Allah has made us.

He has made everything.

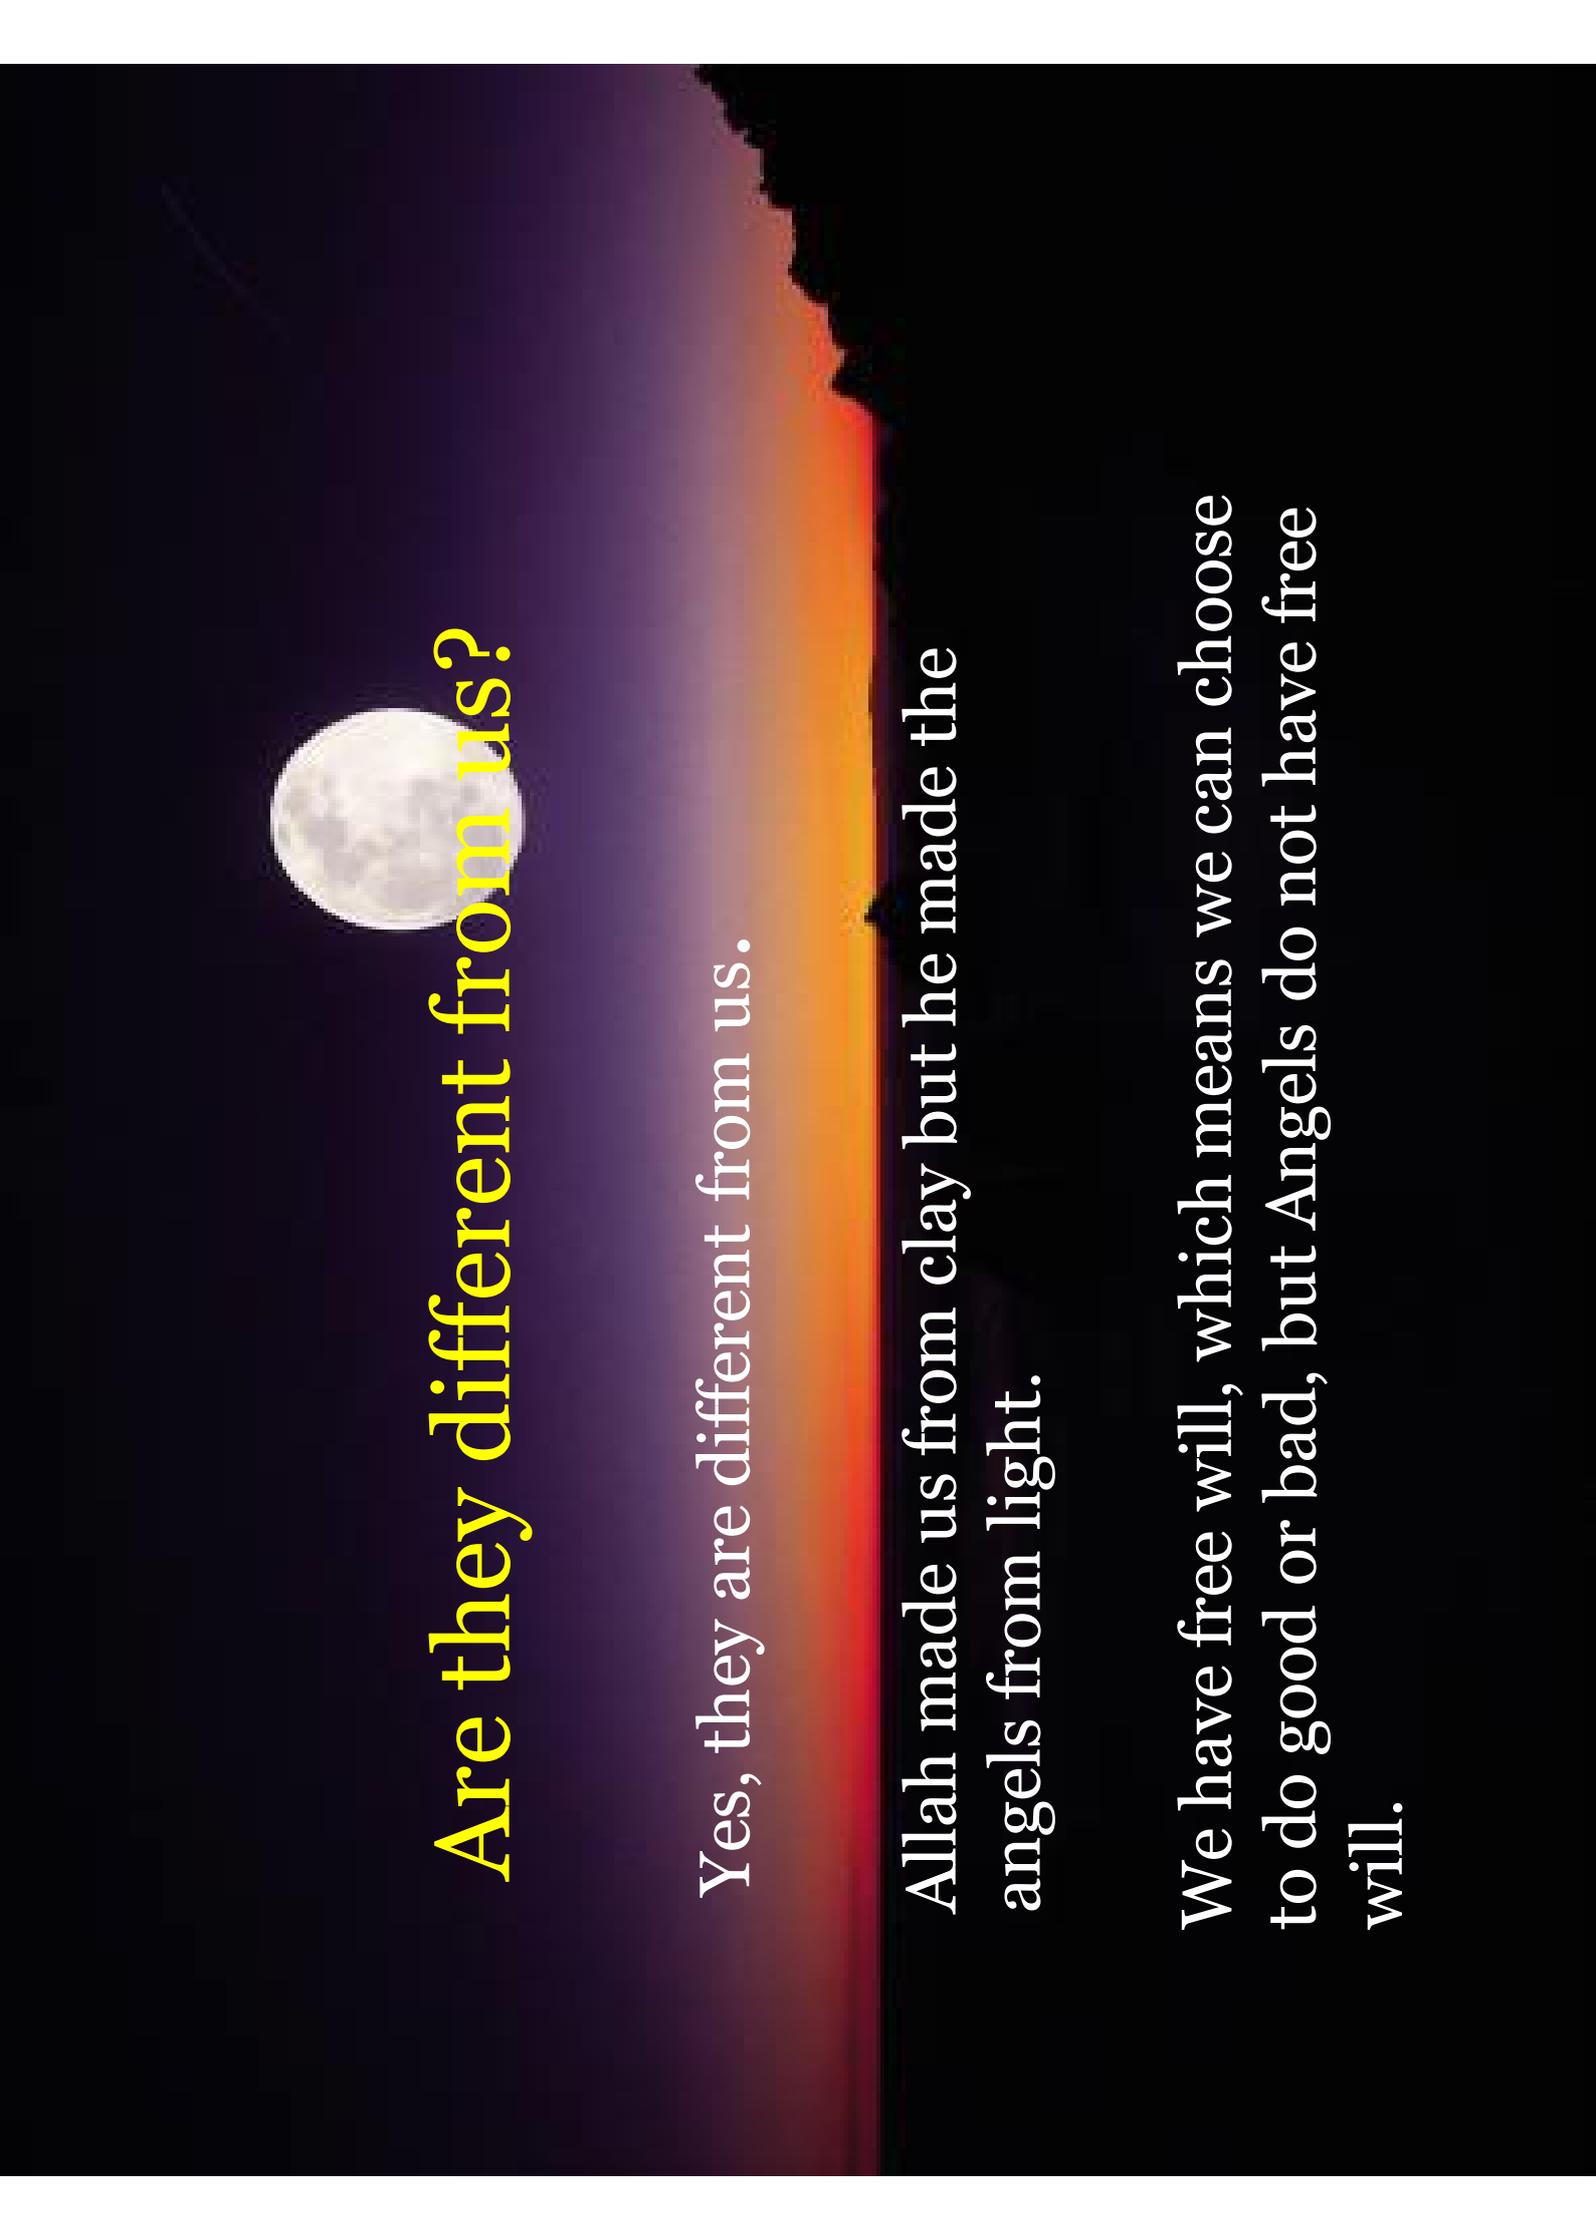

Allah has also made Angels.

Who are the angels?

Angels are special servants of Allah

The angels have been mentioned in the Quran

Are they different from us?

Yes, they are different from us.

Allah made us from clay but he made the angels from light.

We have free will, which means we can choose to do good or bad, but Angels do not have free will.

What do the angels do?

The angels do what Allah tells them to do.

They always obey Allah and never disobey him.

They are always ready to obey Allah's command at all times.

Are there many Angels?

There are many angels. Some of the great angels are:

Jibril or Gabriel - The angel of revelation

Mika'il or Michael – The angel of life-sustenance

Izra'il or Azrail – The angel of death

Israfil – The angel of command

The Guardian Angels

All human beings have two guardian angels

These two angels are called Kiraman and katibeen.

Everything we say or do is written down by these angels.
